Express Yourself

Why settle for the ordinary when you can make your own invitations for your very special event?

Robin will help you design the perfect invitation or stationery ensemble to express your own unique personality.

From “Always” Stamp Set

Once you have decided on your design, Robin will be pleased to have the opportunity to make your special stationery set. OR you may choose to make your special cards and accessories yourself, letting Robin supply the design, instructions and supplies. A money-saving idea!

For the most fun, have your friends and relatives—your bridal party, aunties and tutus, or best friends—gather for a party to put it all together. Robin will even organize it for you!

With cards by robin you get to do it YOUR way!

cards for every occasion

Your Stationery Your Way

Your friend opens the special envelope that has made its way to her mail box! Ah, finally that special wedding invitation!

But it looks just like the invitation to that other wedding she attended last month.

Now there is no reason YOUR invitation should look like anyone else's! When you work with Robin to create the stationery for your special day, you will show YOUR personality, expressed with YOUR colors, and YOUR choice of designs. And for only pennies more than you would spend for that ordinary printing job produced by your ordinary printer!

Robin is an independent Stampin' Up! Demonstrator, and has dozens of papers, images, inks and embellishments for your special stationery needs. She will work with you to get the most out of your budget for your event.

Don't wait—Call her today!

Weddings

Wedding invitations and stationery ensembles are a once-in-a-lifetime opportunity to express your thoughts and dreams as you prepare to begin your new life with you one true love. Robin will work with you to find that perfect ensemble. The start of the process is finding out what YOU want your papers to be like. Then she will prepare several samples from which you can choose or make modifications. There is no obligation until you make a choice.

Birthdays and Graduations and More!

And we're not just weddings! Robin can design the perfect birth announcement, baby luau invitation, and cards for any other occasion.
